

Exercise : Week 1

1. Open the attached PDF of Alice in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll.
2. Select an integer at random between 2-192. You may use the R code:
`sample(2:192, size = 1)`. Let this selected number be 'm'.
3. If page 'm' has a picture or poem, select the first page full of text that comes after page 'm'. If page m is full of text, use that page. Let the selected page number be 'k'.
 - Example: If m=20, you will see it contains a poem. Move to page 21 (k=21), which is full of text.
4. On page 'k', find the first occurrence of the word "to" (case-insensitive).
5. Count the number of words that appear between that "to" and the next "to".

Example (Page 21): "...I shall have to [1] go [2] and [3] live [4] in [5] that [6] poky [7] little [8] house, [9] and [10] have [11] next to..." → Result: 11 words.
6. Find all consecutive "to" intervals on that same page. You should end up with a list of numbers.

Example Page 21 has 4 occurrences of "to", and the gaps are of 11, 2, 8, 112 words.
7. Enter these counts into this Excel sheet against your roll number.
Complete this exercise by Friday.

"I'm sure those are not the right words," said poor Alice, and her eyes filled with tears again as she went on, "I must be Mabel after all, and I shall have to go and live in that poky little house, and have next to no toys to play with, and oh! ever so many lessons to learn! No, I've made up my mind about it; if I'm Mabel, I'll stay down here! It'll be no use their putting their heads down and saying 'Come up again, dear!' I shall only look up and say 'Who am I then? Tell me that first, and then, if I like being that person, I'll come up: if not, I'll stay down here till I'm somebody else'—but, oh dear!" cried Alice, with a sudden burst of tears, "I do wish they would put their heads down! I am so very tired of being all alone here!"

As she said this she looked down at her hands, and was surprised to see that she had put on one of the Rabbit's little white kid gloves while she was talking. "How can I have done that?" she thought. "I must be growing small
